

Santrev set to open in China

In an exciting development for the Australian shed manufacturer, Santrev is on course to open a marketing office in China.

Director Luke Trevanion said "The sales office in China is a big deal for us and is needed to support our Asian and Pacific customers."

The Australian company has launched its housing solutions into a competitive local Asian market.

"We are certainly competitive in this market and we feel our solutions can offer significant advantages. It is very much about taking Australian ingenuity to the world," said Luke.

"The combination of our proven shed design and quality, our years of experience being chicken farmers and our flexibility in tailoring each shed to the customer has been very well received.

"There are significant benefits for our customers at home because we are able to negotiate even better volume prices and pass that on keeping our prices very low."

Santrev's International expansion has been bolstered recently with the appointment of selected agents in South America, Russia, India, Thailand, New Zealand, the Middle East and The Philippines.

Shane Reeves on the mend and recovering

It is welcome news that Shane Reeves, NSW Farming Manager, Ingham's Enterprises is reportedly on the mend and recovering.

Shane has shown a remarkable recovery following his stroke that put him into a Queensland hospital six weeks ago.

Shane has now been transferred to Liverpool hospital in NSW where he is able to be closer to his family and friends.

He is undergoing specialist therapy and showing a positive improvement on a daily basis.

Management and staff at Ingham's Enterprises, also the poultry industry nationally, wish Shane a full and speedy recovery.

"Our prayers and thoughts are with him and his family during this time".
